Skills Summary

I am a highly motivated self-starter. I work well under pressure with minimal supervision and am able to solve many issues using my advanced troubleshooting skills. I am able to break complex problems down into manageable pieces to effectively solve most problems, and I'm not afraid to ask for help or clarification when needed. I work well with a team. I am valued as an asset to my leaders as I help our team see the goal and vision of our company. I am the "go to guy" for my supervisor when he needs help solving a complex problem. I am flexible and adaptable to change, and I am able to learn new skills quickly and effectively, so I can be a valuable asset.
